

Code of Conduct for Guests on Safari with Kampur Travel Diaries

Kampur Travel Diaries is committed to ensure that you have an awesome vacation that is as sustainable. We aim to protect the environment, lessen our Carbon footprint and empower the local communities through your travels.

You can do your bit by the following measures:

1. Use the re-useable water bottle that is provided/carry your own refillable water bottle to reduce the use of single-use plastic bottles. The camps and our vehicles have reuseable large bottles of water and your guide can help you fill your bottle as needed.
2. Another way to curb plastic pollution and eliminate the use of Single-use plastics is to say NO to plastic straws/coffee cups with lids/plastic cutlery/ any throw away packaging.
3. For waste disposal during gamedrives, our guides will have brown/canvas bags in the vehicle which you can use.
4. Please be mindful of water usage throughout your safari. Support water conservation by reducing the flow of water when taking a shower, reducing your shower time and closing all taps when not in use. Report any water leakages/leaking taps to the camp/lodge management if this happens.
5. Please re-use towels instead of getting them replaced daily as this will help in the overall reduction of water use.
6. Please do not purchase any items made from ivory, sea shells, wild animal hair or bone.
7. When at the coast, do not pick up sea shells, coral stones or any wildlife like starfish as this harms the ecosystem and the animals.
8. Take many photos, but leave the places that you visit cleaner and with a positive impact.

9. Be cognizant to be respectful in your dressing around local people and also be respectful to their customs and traditions.

10. Please do not give out food/sweets to children who you may see in the towns/villages and along the roadside as this creates a culture of begging. Instead, if you wish to help create change within communities in Kenya, you can contribute to our conservation, reforestation or community development projects. Please let us/your guide know and we will be happy to give you more details on this.
